22 KNOWN DEAD IN PITTSBURGH BLAST; MAKING PROBE

Belief Is That Many Bodies Have Not As Yet Been Recovered

STATE MAKES SURVEY

Relief Provided for All Those Made Homeless by The Explosion

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 15 (I.N.S.).—With many dead believed still buried beneath tons of debris which only huge cranes can remove and with the number of recovered bodies standing at 22, a dual investigation of the disastrous explosion of the Equitable Gas Company's plant here opened today.

County Coroner W. J. McGregor will attempt to fix the responsibility for the explosion, one of the worst here in years, and at the same time the Pennsylvania Public Service Commission sent its secretary, H. D. Hirsch, here to make a survey.

Despite wild reports that the known death toll has risen as high as 50, it was established definitely by International News Service that only 22 bodies have been removed. These are in the county morgue. It is quite generally agreed among rescue workers, however, that many dead still lie buried beneath fallen buildings.

The injured, including persons cut by flying glass in some instances several miles from the scene of the explosion, will number about 600, according to Coroner McGregor, who said the hospital had treated 480 victims and that the others received treatment in their own homes.

While the rescue work proceeded, Pittsburgh generously provided relief for persons made homeless. At a special session recommended by Mayor Charles H. Kline, the city council appropriated $100,000 to provide food and shelter for the homeless sufferers.

Every police station and fire station in the city was thrown open to the homeless and many of them spent the night there or in temporary barracks of the Salvation Army and Red Cross.

Regardless of where the responsibility for the explosion is placed, a vigorous attempt to have council pass an ordinance requiring the gas company to move all gas storage tanks from residential districts to the suburbs, will be made by Councilman Harry A. Little, a victim of yesterday's disaster, he said today.

At the special council session, Little introduced a bill to that effect the purpose of which is to hold losses at a minimum in the event of future explosions. This time the effect of the blast was felt throughout the downtown district as the plant is located across the river from the main business section. Thousands of plate glass windows crumbled as the tank let go.

Thirty large commercial houses and 200 home-owners were hard hit by the gas tornado, according to unofficial estimates. There were indications that little if any of the property damage would be met by insurance companies, as few fire policies include damage incited by concussion.

The loss in window glass alone was estimated by various insurance companies as low as $50,000 and as high as $150,000. Much of this loss is covered by special display window insurance.

Insurance officials said it was too early to estimate the total property damage with any degree of certainty. They said it might run as high as $10,000,000, or might fall far below this mark, depending upon the value of destroyed property which cannot yet be ascertained.

Today the district for five blocks on either side of the gas plant resembled war-torn France. A heavy artillery fire could have done no worse damage than the concussion when the 5,000,000 cubic foot gas tank let go. A spark from a blow torch in the hands of workmen repairing an adjoining tank is advanced by officials of the gas company as the probable cause.

There were buildings with the entire front sections missing, others that had fallen into the basement excavations as though a giant trip-hammer had descended upon them and still others moved entirely off their foundations. Two street cars were lifted from the tracks, but fortunately the passengers were only slightly bruised.

TURKEYS ARE HIGH

HATFIELD, Pa., Nov. 15 (I.N.S.).—The Thanksgiving turkey this season will cost a bit more than last from indications at the first sales of the year here. Choice birds sold at 47½ cents a pound compared with 46½ cents a year ago. The live price plus 11 cents a pound will make the dressed price this year about 58 or 59 cents a pound.

CHANGE SHOW TIME

All of this week the second show at the Riverside Theatre will begin at 9.15 each evening, instead of at nine o'clock as has been the rule.

EIGHTY-ONE LOSE THEIR AUTOMOBILE LICENSES

Intoxication and Violation of Liquor Laws Lead All Others

THE NAMES ARE GIVEN

HARRISBURG, Pa., Nov. 15 (I.N.S.).—Eighty-one additional names have been added to those who have lost licenses for violations of the state's motor laws, the Department of Highways announced yesterday. At the same time fifteen names were placed on the prohibitory list.

Intoxication, transporting liquor and reckless driving continued to be the causes which get the motorists into the greatest amount of trouble. Those who lost licenses on a charge of intoxication included M. L. Rafferty, Beaver Falls; Floyd Hazleton and P. J. McAndrews, both of Scranton; Charles Stuber, Allentown; Fred J. Schmidt, Wilkes-Barre; John Hartfelder, New Castle and Samuel Guiley, Oil City.

Stanley Broad, of Wilkes Barre, and Stanley Schwarz, Nanticoke had their licenses revoked for failure to stop and render assistance after an accident.

Senior Play Ready To Be Presented To Public

The high school play, "Come Out of The Kitchen," is now ready for the public. You may all see it by attending one of the performances—Thursday or Friday evening (November 17-18).

The members have worked hard to make it a success, and they would like to have your patronage.

Those who know, say that the play is a typical comedy.

The aristocratic Mrs. Faulkner is ably portrayed by Marion Harrison. This part shows her ability to act as a wealthy, middle-aged person of the present time.

The conceited Solon Tucker, completely under the wing of his sister, Mrs. Falkner, is cleverly acted by Ronald Swain.

The obedient daughter, Cora Faulkner, who is obliged to obey her mother's wishes, is capably taken by Florence Peirce.

ANNOUNCE MARRIAGE

Mrs. Mary Musnuff, formerly of Bristol, now of Bayonne, N. J., announces the marriage of her daughter, Frances, to Edward Parks, of Kansas City, on October 22nd.

BAPTISTS OF TWO COUNTIES MEET IN THEIR SEMI-ANNUAL SESSION

Bux-Mont Union Gathering Attended by Over 400 — Very Interesting Addresses Are Made at Afternoon And Evening Sessions

DOYLESTOWN, Nov. 15.—Over 400 Baptists from various sections of Bucks and Montgomery counties yesterday attended the twenty-seventh semi-annual meeting of the Bux-Mont Baptist Union held here in the First Baptist Church. It was one of the largest meetings in the history of the Union. There was an afternoon and evening session.

The semi-annual meetings of the union are held for the purposes of social, fraternal and inspirational meeting. With a new $12,000 educational hall recently dedicated, the First Baptist Church proved to be an ideal place in which to entertain the visiting church people.

Last night the large auditorium of the church was filled to overflowing to hear the address on "The Non-Going Church and the Non-Church Goer," delivered by Dr. Russell M. Brougher, pastor of the famous Baptist Temple, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Following the devotional service yesterday afternoon that was conducted by Rev. H. Warner Lewis, of New Britain, greetings were extended to the visiting members by Rev. Eaton B. Freeman, pastor of the entertaining church.

"Words of welcome seem unnecessary for me as a stranger here to welcome folks who live in this vicinity," said Rev. Freeman. "A welcome is hardly necessary in a town like Doylestown, where in a very short time I have been cordially received and named. However, I greet you in the name of this splendid church and fine community. I have been impressed by the seriousness of the cordiality, both of Doylestown at large and of the First Baptist Church."

The response to the official welcome was made by Victor S. Reichelbach, of Lansdale, moderator of the Bux-Mont Union. The moderator introduced a few "old friends" of the Union, including Rev. M. E. Hare, formerly pastor of the Lansdale Baptist Church and the first moderator of the Union, who is known as the "Daddy of the Bux-Mont Union"; and Rev. Davis, a former Baptist pastor in this vicinity.

Vocal selections were given at the afternoon session by E. A. Simons, director of the First Baptist Church. The report of the Secretary, Charles A. Smedley, of North Wales, and the report of the treasurer, Henry F. Jacoby, were given at the business session yesterday afternoon.

The Bux-Mont News, the official publication of the Union, distributed yesterday, announced that no church in the Union is without a pastor. The sized stewardship in his address.

HOPKINS LODGE TO CHANGE MEETING NIGHT

Will Meet Every Thursday Instead of Wednesday Evenings

MEMBERSHIP INCREASES

Meeting night for Hopkins Lodge, No. 87, I. O. O. F., has been changed from Wednesday evening to Thursday evening, due to the fact that there has been a big increase in the membership of that organization and that most of the increase is among the young folks.

Hopkins Lodge has met on Wednesday evenings for the past 50 years but just now is showing much activity. Many young men have joined the lodge and Thursday night is a better night for them to meet than Wednesday evening.

This Thursday evening, November 17th, the Eastern District of Bucks County of Odd Fellows will assemble here. There will be a program of entertainment and refreshments. Most of the entertainment will be furnished by members of Hopkins Lodge. Much talent has been found in the local organization and there will be a program of instrumental and vocal music which will be a rare treat.

GOVERNOR ISSUES PROCLAMATION FOR ANNUAL THANKSGIVING DAY

HARRISBURG, Nov. 15 (I.N.S.).—Governor John S. Fisher today issued the annual gubernatorial proclamation calling the people of Pennsylvania to observe Thursday, November 24, as Thanksgiving Day.

After reviewing the material good that has come to the nation and the State, the Governor asked that in "our hours of ease and comfort" we remember those who may be less favored.

The proclamation follows:

"The near approach of Thanksgiving Day again calls the people to thanksgiving and prayer. It is a venerable and solemn survival of a custom instituted by the Pilgrim Fathers; it is a time to recount the blessings of the fruitful seasons and make humble acknowledgment to the Giver of All Good for the loving kindness he has shown his children. Its observance is enjoined by the President of the United States and the laws of the Commonwealth.

"The passing year has been so highly favored, and so much of material and spiritual progress vouchsafed to us, that the day now set apart may be enjoyed as a religious and social festival.

"The spirit of peace prevails as never before in the councils of the nations. Brotherhood, mutual understanding and justice are replacing violence, and war is becoming the outlaw of civilization.

"At home, contentment and plenty prevail. The farms have yielded a bounteous harvest; industry has flourished as never before and social and industrial unrest little disturb the peace and prosperity of the people.

"In our hours of ease and comfort let us not be forgetful of those less favored. Let our prayers and efforts be directed to the establishment of industrial peace, based upon right and mutual understanding; let our hearts and our pocketbooks respond generously to the calls of distress and need everywhere, so that those who suffer from want, or misfortune, or disaster, may be relieved and find cause for rejoicing in the Day; let us renew our pledges to our country and our faith; let us gather together the family circle and that at the fireside and around the table affections may be strengthened and the American home sanctified.

"AND NOW, THEREFORE, I, John S. Fisher, Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, joining with the President of the United States, do hereby, designate and set aside Thursday, November twenty-fourth, nineteen hundred twenty-seven, as THANKSGIVING DAY, to be observed by all the people of the Commonwealth, in the home and places of worship where they may engage in prayer and praise according to their faith, in remembrance and acknowledgment of the goodness of Almighty God in providing so bountifully for all His people and in protecting and leading our Nation and Commonwealth in the ways of truth and righteousness.

"GIVEN under the hand of our Governor and under the Great Seal of the Commonwealth, at Harrisburg, this ninth day of the eleventh month called November, in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred twenty-seven and of the Commonwealth, the one hundred fifty-second."

DIVORCE SUIT IS STARTED; ACTION AGAINST BOROUGH

Suit Is Started To Collect Bill From the Borough of Newtown

JUDGE REFUSES PARDON

Suit Also Started Against A South Langhorne Manufacturer

DOYLESTOWN, Nov. 15.—One divorce was started in the Court of Common Pleas yesterday, a suit was started against the Borough of Newtown for the collection of a claim and another was brought by an insurance company against a South Langhorne manufacturing plant.

Gertrude Chittick, of Dublin, started suit for divorce on the grounds of desertion, against her husband, LeRoy Chittick, whose last known residence was Easton. The desertion, it is alleged, took place in June, 1921. The marriage was performed on March 30, 1912. The action was brought by Hiram H. Keller, of this place, attorney for Mrs. Chittick.

Action in assumpsit was started in the Court of Common Pleas in a suit brought by the Good Roads Company, Inc., of Upper Darby, against the Borough of Newtown. The suit is for the payment of $3120.88 the plaintiff company alleges is due them by the defendant for street paving work in Newtown. Suit was filed by Webster Achey, of this place, attorney for the plaintiff. In the statement of claim it is alleged that the plaintiff applied 22,489 square yards of surface treatment to the Newtown street at .12 cents per square yard, amounting to $2697.60, and 2288 square yards of treatment in the street car area at .185 cents a square yard, or $423.28. The statement also sets forth the borough agreed to pay for the work net cash in thirty days and the work was completed July 30.

Suit was started yesterday by William Arrott, Inc., insurance brokers, against the American Velling Company, of South Langhorne, for an alleged balance of $530.09 said to be due on insurance policy premiums. Suit was brought by Charles B. Ermentrout, of Southampton, attorney for the plaintiff.

Five parole petitions were presented, one desertion and non-support case and several cases listed for argument, were disposed of yesterday before Judge William C. Ryan at the regular term of argument court.

A number of desertion and non-support cases will be heard in addition to other miscellaneous business that will be presented in the Quarter Sessions and Common Pleas courts. Today there will be two sessions of Argument Court with Judge Ryan presiding at one and Judge Samuel E. Shull, of Stroudsburg, an another.

Judge Ryan refused the parole application of Harry Howard, 18, of Yardley, who on August 1 pleaded guilty to felonious entry, larceny and receiving stolen goods and was sentenced to serve from six months to one year in the county prison. Howard was arrested by State Police for entering the store of Watson P. Church, Washington Crossing, and stealing cigarettes worth $3. William Zimmerman, a brother-in-law of Howard, testified that he had a position for Howard in a Yardley plant.

A similar petition was presented in the case of George Dougherty, 19, of Yardley. Dougherty was arrested with Howard in the Church store robbery and received the same sentence. The petition was refused.

Judge Ryan held under advisement the parole petition of William Cubberley, of Fallsington, who was sentenced on September 16 to pay a fine of $500 and costs and serve three months in the Bucks County Prison. Henry A. James, of Doylestown, represented the petitioner in the absence of Howard L. James, of Bristol, who was unable to attend court this morning because of illness. Until Mr. James is able to come to court the petition will be held under advisement.

Cubberley, proprietor of the Farmers Hay and Grain Market, 296 Norfolk street, Trenton, was convicted of possession and manufacturing liquor for beverage purposes at his farm in Fallsington. His place was raided by State Police who found a monster plant for the manufacture of booze on the side of the house adjoining the side where Cubberley lived. In the trial Cubberley said he understood the place was for the manufacture of spaghetti.

"I never made liquor or possessed it in my life," Cubberley said this morning in answer to a question asked him by Henry A. James, attorney. Mrs. Ruth Cubberley, the proprietor's wife, said that she has been carrying on the hay business in Trenton, but needed her husband at home, where the farm crops need attention.

Roy Beasley, of Morrisville, was granted a parole this morning by Judge Ryan. He was sentenced on July 22 to pay a fine of $1 and costs and serve from three to six months in the Bucks County Prison. His arrest grew out of the theft of a motor-

THE HE-MAN'S SPORT

If game for food were all the hunter craved he might save himself the trouble of an expedition into the woods. A brace of quail, a wild goose or a rabbit could be purchased at the market without expenditure of powder and shot. The chances are that the origin of those he shoots was the same as that of the Thanksgiving turkey and Christmas goose, for men bent on sport no longer depend on what nature provides. They themselves stock the wilds with game that they have bred on the farm.

Game propagation has been long established abroad, but only in recent years has the United States felt the necessity of using poultry yard means for maintaining the national supply. Hunters increased enormously as the population grew, and the areas naturally productive of game became restricted as settlement advanced, so that even here it has become necessary to breed material for the hunt.

Enough has been accomplished to prove that increase in the extent of successful game farming is limited only by the area, expenditure and effort devoted to it. Even animals long thought impossible of propagation in captivity are now produced in large numbers on the farms of individuals, sportsmen's organizations and state governments. American game farms have succeeded primarily with the ring-necked pheasant, bobwhite quail, mallard duck, Canada goose, Hungarian partridge, grouse, wild turkey, fox and deer.

The American's hearty appetite and love of hunting brought the nation to the verge of exhaustion of its once thought inexhaustible supply of large and small game. When hunters awakened to the situation large areas of the country were virtually without game of any description. But that very same love of hunting, found in every American in greater or less degree, is restocking forest, field and stream. Sportsmen are only too willing to pay for the privilege of hunting and fishing, and it is license fees, taxes and club and organization funds collected from them that are bringing back the wild creatures.

CONGRESS AND RADIO

Marked changes in the Radio Act of 1927 are likely to be proposed when congress convenes next month. Apparently congress, and particularly the senate, does not want to see radio administration pass from the federal radio commission to Secretary Hoover on April 23, 1928, as the law provides.

Some time ago it was reported that Senator Watson, of Indiana, chairman of the senate committee on interstate commerce, was working on a bill that would continue the radio commission as an administrative agency and extend its jurisdiction to other mediums of communication. Other members of congress have also expressed dissatisfaction with present arrangement.

Unless congress is certain that there is sound reason for making changes, it should limit alterations of the law to provisions which the commission feels should be strengthened. Radio control is a delicate and complicated business and must not be tinkered with by partisans who may be actuated solely by political jealousy. Let the senators who come under this classification remember, before they butcher the law, that there will always be radio but Mr. Hoover will not always be secretary of commerce.

State News

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 15 (I.N.S.)—The Temple-Bucknell football game here on Franklin Field, November 19, is to be the date for the assemblage of former Temple students and alumni.

Throughout the State and neighboring States the word has gone out for a re-union of the various classes following the game concluding with an alumni ball at the Penn Athletic Club the night after the game.

The main purpose of the re-union, it is said, is to interest the former students and the 11,500 men and women now at Temple in a project which calls for a new building of the skyscraper type and a very elaborate program of physical, academic and athletic advancement.

BETHLEHEM, Pa., Nov. 15.—Patrolman Charles Fenton, 35, died early Monday of wounds received Saturday by bandits during the hold-up of a rooming house here. The bandits, driving a car with a New York license, escaped in the direction of New York. Fenton was married and had been a member of the local police force for four years. He formerly lived in Brooklyn, N. Y.

Time For Inventory

There is a certain period of the day when every family takes inventory of its needs. It is the hour when all members of the family are at home. That hour is in the EVENING.

During the day, from early morning until sunset, the various members of the household are scattered. To reassemble them before the appointed hour for home-coming would be a gigantic task. The man who wishes to meet the entire family must wait until EVENING, when all footsteps point HOMEWARD.

At inventory time—in the EVENING—the family takes stock, discovers its needs, plans for supplying them. Inventory time in the home is the ideal hour for your merchandise to be laid before the family, and the best way—the ONLY way—is to secure the services of the newspaper that reaches home at inventory time.

The EVENING newspaper is a doubly welcome arrival because it contains information which will assist the entire family in planning its investments to be made tomorrow. Shopping lists will be compiled from the advertisements in the evening newspaper, and every advertisement will be read carefully. People no longer shop in haphazard fashion.

Unless YOUR advertisement is read, it will sell no merchandise. Make sure that it is READ by placing it in the EVENING newspaper, the newspaper that reaches home just before INVENTORY TIME and is an INDISPENSABLE aid to every member of the family.

The Courier is an EVENING NEWSPAPER.

Red Cross Meets Heavy Demand for Water Safety Duty

Trained life-savers in the United States, qualified by the Red Cross as experts in all phases of water safety, now number 134,582 adults and juniors, according to the Life-Saving Service of the American Red Cross, which reported 32,506 trained and qualified in the past year. This number does not include other thousands who were taught to swim.

Training courses conducted by the Red Cross last summer brought out a uniformly high standard of proficiency. In addition, more than 20 winter training courses were conducted the past year. Swimming "institutes" at camps in Arizona, California, Indiana, Massachusetts, New York, North Carolina, Missouri, Oregon, Washington, and Wisconsin, "splash weeks" and swimming and life-saving campaigns under Red Cross auspices held in many States aroused great interest.

"The experience gained during the last few years indicates that the dangers involved in water sports can be eliminated through training and by the adoption of water safety methods," a recent Red Cross report stated. "When our communities provide sufficient swimming pools, bathing beaches, and skating places, and furnish trained leaders under whose guidance both adults and children may enjoy themselves in safety, the number of preventable deaths through drowning will be greatly reduced."

The Red Cross is endeavoring to supply trained leaders in water safety so far as its facilities permit. To increase the effectiveness of this and other services, the Eleventh Annual Roll Call, from November 11 to 21 will urge an enrollment of 5,000,000.

The American Red Cross will ask an enrollment of 5,000,000 members for the coming year, during the Annual Roll Call, November 11-24 inclusive.

FOOTBALL IN EAST LOOKS GOOD TO SPORTSMEN

By Davis J. Walsh

I. N. S. Sports Editor
NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Eastern prestige, which is something one usually kicks first and examines afterward, if at all, came into its own with a rush in consequence of Saturday's football returns, which showed the Army and Pittsburgh the winners in the two big intersectional games of the month and perhaps the season. Pitt won from Nebraska, representative team of the Missouri Valley conference, and the Army scored with surprising ease over Notre Dame, supposedly the greatest outfit in the Middle West, if not the entire country.

As a result, Eastern football looks rather good through the central sections of the country this morning and it wouldn't look so bad in the South either, provided Princeton beat Yale.

But it seems that Princeton didn't because it spent the last eight minutes in helping to beat itself. The Tiger was in front with eight minutes to play and, always a sap for the overhead game, it was taken in when Yale decided to try one of those shots in the dark that sometimes click. This one called for a pass from mid-field on the fourth down with 12 yards to gain. It produced the winning touchdown.

However, you don't give Yale a 100 per cent. break unless you grant it due recognition for the fighting spark that could and did carry it through after the loss of Caldwell and an early Princeton touchdown had made matters look like thirty days on the rock pile.

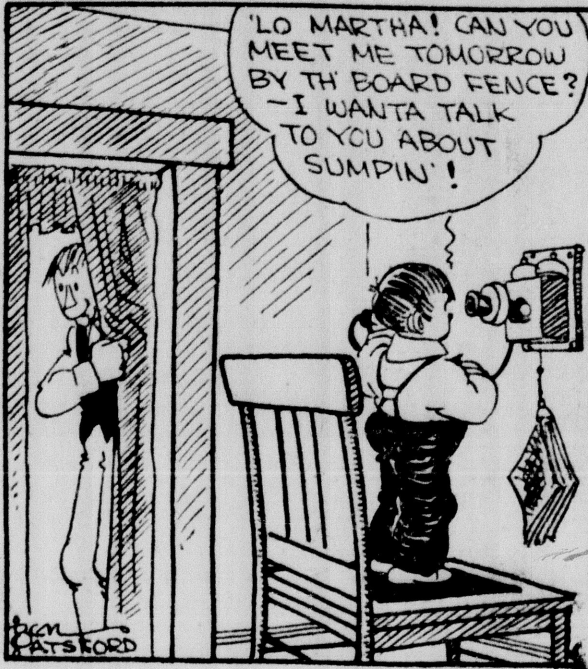

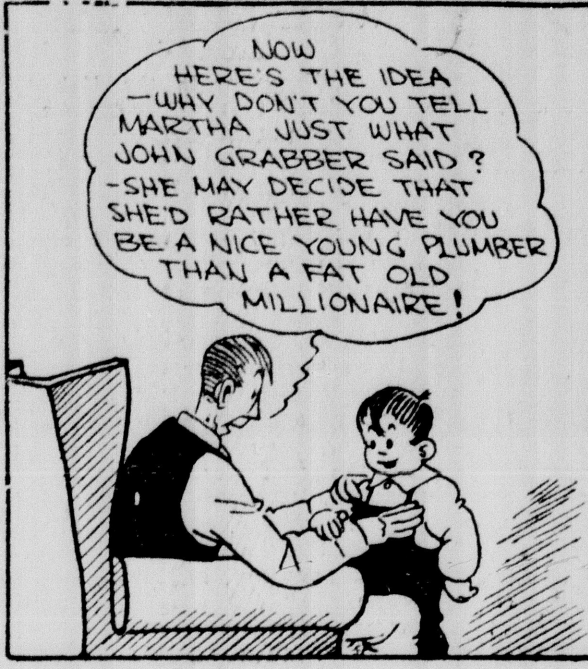

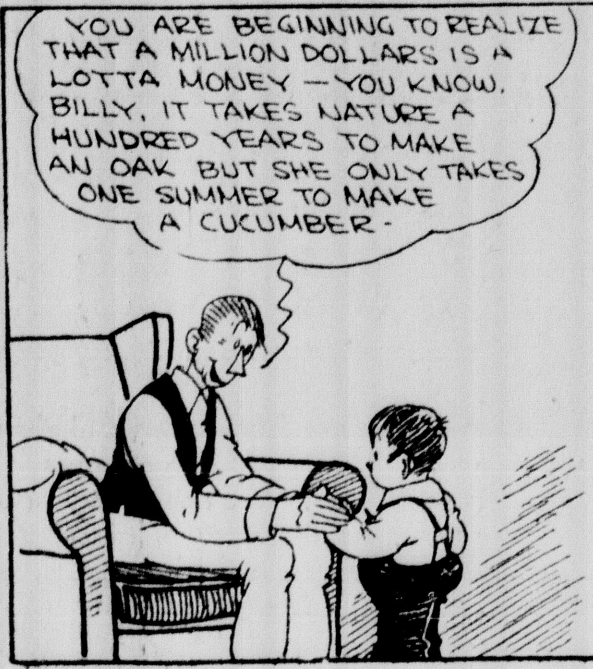

The defeats of Princeton and Notre Dame reduced the lists of unbeaten teams by two, the others managing to stay with the pace for at least another week, although a pair of them were tied. One of these was Tennessee, which got a 7 to 7 stand-off with Vanderbilt and something of a set back in its plans for the acquisition of the Southern title. Georgia, also unbeaten and the only team to "take" Yale, came through as usual against Clemson, leaving the crackers with an average score of 31-1/3 points against all opponents except Yale. The latter crossed Georgia's goal line for the only time this season.

Pittsburgh was another undefeated team of the day and W. and J., winner over Bucknell, was a third. New York University, getting a very meritorious 13 to 13 tie with Penn State, completes the ranks of unbeaten eleven in the East.

Those of the Middle West, Illinois and Minnesota, arch-rivals for the big ten title, won rather handily. The Illinois almost clinched the title by beating Chicago while the Gophers scored easily over Drake, using their second string through the last two periods.

Out where the West or the sun or something begins, Southern California proceeded right ahead with its non-stop scoring, Colorado being the victim this time. The Trojans also are unbeaten and apparently have no idea of letting anything happen that might alter that situation.

BILLY'S UNCLE

Of upsets there were not many in number but they were cataclysmic in character. Who expected the Army to beat Notre Dame by three touchdowns? The silence seems to be absolutely deafening. All right, then, who expected Santa Clara to outscore Stanford? Not Glenn Warner, at any rate, for he took himself and his California and remain in the running with Stanford and U. S. C. for the coast conference championship. It may be assumed, therefore, that Stanford was too confident.

As for Notre Dame, it was too flat-footed to have a chance with an Army team that was fast, shifty, smart and altogether at the peak of its game. Rated now with Yale, Pitt and W. and J. as an Eastern leader, the Army gave its passers, runners and kickers splendid protection and, on the defense, it rushed into the Notre Dame backfield to break up its plays before they could be developed. All of which is saying a lot for the Army and not enough about the character of the Notre Dame tackling.

Mrs. Marian L. Davis Dies In Philadelphia

Following a two weeks' illness, Mrs. Marian L. Davis, wife of William L. Davis, died in Philadelphia, on Sunday.

The deceased was the daughter of the late William E. Hibbs, and is known to many in Bristol. Besides her husband, Mrs. Davis is survived by her mother, Mrs. Martha D. Ho-miller, of Philadelphia; a sister, Mrs. J. Prendergast, and two brothers, Maurice and Harvey Hubbs, of Bristol.

Funeral services will be held from the home of Mrs. Prendergast, 338 Jackson street, Bristol, on Thursday, at 2:30 p. m., with the Rev. John El-lery, Ph. D., pastor of the Bristol Methodist Church, officiating. Burial will be made in Celestown, N. J., Cemetery, and friends may call on Wednesday evening.

cycle that has since been returned to the owner. Beasley's petition was presented by Hiram H. Keller, of Doylestown. The Court said the parole would be granted because of the fact the minimum sentence had been served.

Earl Cope, 23, of Haycock township, an automobile salesman, was granted a parole by Judge Ryan. Cope was arrested with a gang of youths from the upper-end section of Bucks county for stealing gasoline and tires from automobiles last May. He was convicted on May 7 and sentenced to serve from six months to one year in the Bucks County Prison. He has served over the minimum sentence and told the Court that he could get a job when he got back home. Cope was charged with felonious entry, larceny and receiving stolen goods.

Herman Hottensen, employed on the farm of E. P. Rosenberger, Pebble Hill, was arraigned on a charge of desertion and non-support brought by his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Hottensen, of 37 Hamilton street, Doylestown. Judge Ryan made an order that Hottensen pay his wife $4 a week toward her support. The defendant was represented at the hearing by Robert G. Hendricks, and Mrs. Hottensen was represented by John L. DuBois, this borough. On the stand the woman admitted that certain things that took place in their former home at Edison in which her husband's mother-in-law was implicated, did not suit him. Hottensen also told the court that this wife had not done the right thing toward him and that she obeyed her mother and would not do what he wanted her to do. They were married on April 17, this year. Hottensen said that he was working now for E. P. Rosenberger, Pebble Hill, for $6 a week and his board.

Other desertion and non-support cases listed to be heard today are as follows: Commonwealth of Penna. vs. George K. Gorton; Commonwealth of Penna. vs. Angelo Rago. There will be a hearing in a surety case, Commonwealth of Penna. vs. Alfonso Mon-siello. In the Orphans' Court there are five cases listed for argument. In the Common Pleas Court there are thirty-three cases listed for argument before Judges Ryan and Shull.

monwealth of Penna. vs. Alfonso Mon-siello.

In the Quarter Session Court this afternoon two cases listed for hearing include a petition to vacate Gravel Pike road in Bensalem township and another for the opening of a new road in Middletown township.

In the Orphans' Court there are five cases listed for argument. In the Common Pleas Court there are thirty-three cases listed for argument before Judges Ryan and Shull.

We know what we like, don't we, Old Pipe!

PRINCE ALBERT, and plenty of it, huh? Well, we can justify that on any number of counts. It's more than mere preference. There are sound reasons for liking Prince Albert above anything else.

Take fragrance, for instance. P.A. has 'em all stopped there. Every time I open the tidy red tin, I get a brand-new thrill. A tobacco that smells like that would have to be good, if you ask me. Yes, Sir!

And then take taste. Every puff tells a man that P.A. is cool and refreshing, with a mellow-mildness that is a revelation. Mild, yes, but not wishy-washy. P.A.'s rich, full-bodied flavor balances its mildness and makes it a smoke!

But all the talk in the world won't do a man any good, unless he acts on it. A load of long-burning P.A. in the bowl of his pipe will tell him volumes—and in language he likes. It's the personal test that counts, after all. I don't believe I can add to that.

Not only quality, but quantity, too—TWO full ounces in every tin.
